To Whom It May Concern;

I wish to express my thanks to iTech Solutions Group who recommended Hamway Software Solutions to us for our data extraction requirements. We recently reached out to Hamway Software Solutions to assist us with our data extraction project. Our task required the extracting of information from our current custom system and importing this information into our new ERP system, Seradex. The tight deadline meant we didn't have time to develop programs to retrieve the data. Hamway Software Solutions' product, dbFunnel provided an easy method to extract our required information without any programming.

Hamway Software Solutions quickly installed dbFunnel and we were ready to start using the application. dbFunnel provided Screenco with an easy solution to retrieve the data from the IBMi. The data was extracted in the format that matched the required spreadsheets in the fraction of the time traditional programming would take. Any changes to our data requirements were easily configured in dbFunnel, no programming needed.

We exceeded our management's goals for this critical area which originally was to take weeks but we did it in days. We wish we could deliver on all our projects as easy as it was with dbFunnel and Hamway Software Solutions.
